The press said

"The result is not only stunning, it is also very dark. No cheerful synth pop, but obscure IDM that flirts with industrial" (on "Depeche Mode Deconstructed", Peek-A-Boo Magazine, Belgium)

"The sound universe of Mirland is a quite intimate platform"

"The work appeals to the listener's imagination"

"If you like minimalism and intimate electronic atmospheres this is for sure an album that will fulfill all your needs" (on "Sleep Disorder", 8/10, Side-Line Magazine, Belgium)

"Sleep Disorder is indeed an album that takes the listener out of balance, but it also gives him the ultimate beauty..."

"Tunes that create images for the brain."

"(...) ambient with a high industrial factor" (on "Sleep Disorder", 79/100, Peek-A-Boo Magazine, Belgium)

"(...) an insiders' tip for those who want to hear something different." (on "Fragments", 90/100, Peek-A-Boo Magazine, Belgium)

"The work of Mirland reflects his love and passion to create unique sound treatments (...) reminding me a bit of Mirland's compatriot and living-legend Trentemøller" (on "Submerge", 8,5/100, Side-Line Magazine, Belgium)
